

Nicholas Hogeboon Held Up and Robbed at Babylon

State Road Contractor Victim of Brutal Assault on Long Island Wednesday—Bandits Left Him Bound and Gagged—Frees Himself, Gets Medical Attention and Returns to Kingston—Confined to His Bed.

Nicholas Hogeboon, of the firm of Hogeboon & Campbell, state road contractors, was held up and robbed Wednesday morning at Babylon, L. I., by three holdup men who used the pats of their revolvers to club him into submission, and after robbing him left him bound and gagged. Hogeboon managed to work loose from the wire used to bind his hands and feet and managed to get assistance. After having his wounds dressed by a doctor in Babylon he left there, arriving in Kingston about 7 o'clock that evening when Dr. Frank A. Johnston was called and attended to the injured man, who is confined to his bed at his home, 145 Main street.

The contracting firm have been busy all summer in building a concrete road, four strips wide, from Babylon to Bay Shore, and have just completed the contract. Mr. Hogeboon has been spending practically all of his time on the job.

Entered Commissary. Wednesday morning about 7:30 o'clock Mr. Hogeboon walked into the commissary at Babylon to see if there were any workmen around who desired to quit the job, fast drawing to a close, so that he could pay them off.

As he entered the room he was greeted with the command "Throw up your hands." The command was emphasized by revolvers in the hands of two strangers. At first Mr. Hogeboon thought it was some sort of a joke, but soon realized his mistake when he saw that both the holdup men were strangers.

Puts up a Fight. Mr. Hogeboon when the command was repeated promptly elevated both hands above his head.

The two men, sticking the revolvers into his ribs, commanded him to walk toward the cellar door.

Mr. Hogeboon had an inherent dread of being shut up in a dark cellar closet and began to put up a fight.

The battle raged fiercely and it seemed despite the unequal odds as though Mr. Hogeboon would be able to master the two men when they whistled for help.

In response to the whistle the third man, a burly brute, who had been stationed outside the commissary on watch, entered and threw himself into the fray, using the butt of his gun crashing Mr. Hogeboon over the head.

Hogeboon Overpowered. Struck again and again on the head with the heavy butt end of the gun, Mr. Hogeboon was quickly overpowered and dragged down the cellar stairs where the three men bound him hand and foot with some heavy wire.

Another Man Overpowered. As Mr. Hogeboon was dragged into the cellar and the electric lights switched on he saw the bound figure of Frank Lopez, in charge of the commissary, lying on the floor, bound and gagged. Lopez had been held up and robbed just a few minutes before Mr. Hogeboon entered the commissary, and had then been trussed up and lay on his back on the cellar floor, unable to move hand or foot.

Left Both Men Bound. After securely binding Mr. Hogeboon the three holdup men switched off the lights, plunging the cellar in darkness, and left, after relieving Mr. Hogeboon of between $500 and $700 in cash and Lopez of $600 in cash.

As soon as the three men had quit the cellar Mr. Hogeboon began working at his bonds and was partly free when, for some unknown reason, the three holdup men suddenly returned to the cellar, again switching on the electric lights.

They saw that Mr. Hogeboon was nearly loose and re-trussed him, this time more tightly, and again left the cellar.

Finally Freed Self. Mr. Hogeboon worked frantically at the wire that bound him and was able after a short time to loose his hands and then it was comparatively easy to release his feet. He then arose to his feet and hurriedly left the building and rushed out into the street where he encountered a member of the Babylon police force to whom he told his story.

Received First Aid. A general alarm was sent out, but the three holdup men made good their escape.

Mr. Hogeboon was a mass of blood from his wounds and received first aid from a physician in Babylon and later embarked on the train for Kingston after sending word ahead to his family that he was returning home. He was met at the station by his family and on his arrival home Dr. Johnston, who had been called, again dressed the ugly wounds and placed Mr. Hogeboon to bed. Today he was resting as comfortably as could be expected.

State Commercial Travelers Coming

At the recent convention of United Commercial Travelers held at Rochester, N. Y., the delegates from Kingston Council extended an invitation to the Grand Council of New York state to hold the convention of 1929 in Kingston.

The last state convention held in this city was in 1916, so the local men are determined to show the various cities throughout the state that the old Colonial town can outdo them all, when it comes to putting on the real thing next June. As there are 40 delegates with the same number of alternates many of whom bring their wives, preparations are already under way to take care of at least one thousand for the three days the convention will be in session.

A pleasing feature of the convention will be the elevation of a former Kingstonian, George W. Merkle, to the highest state office in the order, that of grand senior counselor. The grand chairman in full charge is E. S. Morris, and he has already appointed his various chairmen and their aides, who are now at work.

On Friday evening of this week a ladies' auxiliary will be formed at Pythian Hall to assist in putting over next year's affair. The committee urge every member to be present Friday night and to be sure and bring their wives along.

After the ladies' meeting, which is called for 8:30, refreshments will be served by the members of the council.

Will Punish Fair Grounds Vandals

For the past few weeks the directors of the Kingston Fair Grounds have been debating upon what action to take in regard to the thievery and destruction of property that has taken place at the grounds.

This practice has become so bold that the directors find it intolerable and have decided to take action.

Some thieves have been entering the grounds and removing the showers, some water faucets and many other articles. They have also destroyed many windows, pipes and in general destroying the appearance of the grounds.

The Fair Grounds Association some time ago prohibited trespassing on the grounds but it has become a common practice for people, without permission, to enter the grounds and use them, and it is believed that these trespassers are the ones who have done the damage and the thieving.

The directors will hold a meeting to decide upon what action to take in regards the punishment of all persons connected with the destruction of the grounds, and they will seek to prosecute them to the full extent of the law.

SAYS FLAG IS DESECRATED ON COURT HOUSE LAWN

Kingston, Oct. 25, '28. Editor Freeman.

The attaches of the Sheriff's office have found a new use for the flag, using it to cover a flower bed in the Court House yard. It would be well for Sheriff Rice, who is the son of one who was an ardent soldier of the Union in '61-'65 and an active member of the G. A. R. during his life, to look into this desecration of the flag and see that it is not repeated.

Yours Truly,
JOY S. ROSA, Adjutant
Pratt Post, G. A. R.
Treasurer Camp 1, S. O. U. V.

In planning the holdup for the employees of Hogeboon & Campbell had received their two weeks' pay on Tuesday. If the holdup had been staged that day there would have been obtained several thousand dollars.

Hogeboon Displayed Grit. Mr. Hogeboon displayed great courage in putting up a fight with the holdup men but if they had not announced that they were going to lock him up in a closet down cellar he would not have put up a fight but would have submitted to being trussed up without an argument.

That he was not shot by the holdup men is a miracle. It is likely, however, that they did not shoot him for fear that the sound of the shots would attract attention.

Imprints of Gun Butts. Mr. Hogeboon, however, was badly beaten up, and the imprints of the gun butts on his head and face are plainly visible. The wounds also bled profusely, but in spite of the extent of his injuries he came home on a train.

Hughes Condemns Smith's Tactics

Attempt to Belie and Ridicule Successful Effort at Governmental Economy is Discreditible, He Says—Hoover is Labor's Best Friend.

Chicago, Oct. 25 (AP).—Charles Evans Hughes has left the Midwest with his unqualified endorsement of Herbert Hoover for president and a denunciation of the campaign tactics of Governor Alfred E. Smith.

Mr. Hughes, himself the standard bearer of the Republicans in 1916, extolled the party's nominee in a speech last night, the second of five he is to make, and reviewed the record of the Republican party as testimony that Governor Smith has become "quite reckless" in his campaign assertions. He cited examples of the prosperity of the country to show that "the Republican party, whatever its shortcomings, has had constructive genius."

"If I were asked to name the man who in my judgment is the leading progressive of our day," Mr. Hughes said, "I would name the Republican candidate for president, Herbert Hoover. To think progressively, that is, toward betterment, to plan to achieve something worth while by practical methods in the interest of the American people, is as natural to him as to breathe."

Ways to Continue Prosperity. He declared that Hoover did not favor forcing government into business. Present prosperity, he said, may be continued by economy, by protection to American interests through adequate tariff, by extension of transportation facilities and by government cooperation in cooperative enterprises.

Mr. Hughes quoted from speeches of Governor Smith criticizing Republican prosperity claims, and said "it is fatuous to ask American voters to support Governor Smith in order to maintain the Republican policy of protection."

The Republican nominee was characterized by Mr. Hughes as "Labor's best friend," and as "the efficient friend of humanity, with an Americanism that is not a thing of slogans or catch words to win voters."

Economy Without Oppressive Taxation

For the first time in the nation's history, he continued, a system of governmental economy has been put into force by Republicans which has prevented oppressive taxation.

"Nothing in this campaign has been more discreditable in my judgment," said Mr. Hughes, "than the attempt to belie and ridicule this successful effort. Economy in administration is the most difficult administrative operation. You need a man with determination to have economy. Such a man as President Coolidge, the apostle of economy."

The Republican tariff policy, Mr. Hughes said, has proved successful. Any attempt to change it or to trust its administration to the Democratic party, he declared, would be "hazardous."

Mr. Hughes left Chicago early today for Buffalo, N. Y., where tomorrow night he is to deliver the third of his series of campaign speeches.

BINGHAMTON'S STOP-SIGNS ARE DECLARED ILLEGAL

Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 25 (AP).—Binghamton's stop-signs at intersections of main traffic streets were declared illegal in a decision handed down by City Judge Ray T. Hackett today.

The stop-signs, that compelled all automobiles to stop before entering main traffic streets were placed at the order of the Commissioner of Public Safety. The decision holds that the Binghamton Common Council had no right to delegate authority for establishing traffic stop-signs to the Commissioner of Public Safety, but should, as the legislative body of the city, have designated the streets where the signs were to be placed.

SENATORS COME TO BLOWS, SESSION ENDS IN UPROAR

Mexico City, Oct. 25 (AP).—Two senators came to blows during a heated debate in the upper house last night.

Senator Manuel Montora landed a blow on the face of Senator Jose Maria Valenzuela. He then pulled his gun on Senator Valenzuela, who was not armed.

Friends of Senator Valenzuela drew their pistols and covered Senator Montora, who was disarmed by other senators. The session ended in an uproar.

21 Injured When Trucks Crash.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 25 (AP).—Twenty-one men were taken to a hospital this morning, five with fractured limbs, when a motorist struck a truck in North Haven causing two other trucks to pile up. The motorist failed to stop. Police reports state that he attempted to pass the trucks and struck another machine, turning it over in a ditch.

Hoover Plans Only Two Set Speeches Before Election

Will Discuss Waterways and Farm Relief at St. Louis on November 2 and Make Final Appeal to Voters Over Radio on Eve of Election.

Washington, Oct. 25 (AP).—Herbert Hoover has allowed himself little time for campaigning on his return trip to his California home to vote on November 6.

Departing from Washington one week from today, he will leave his train only once during the five days' journey—at St. Louis on the night of November 2, where he will make his only set speech of the trip. In that he will discuss the development of inland waterways and farm relief, subjects of special interest to the people of the Mississippi River Valley.

Other stops of the special train of the Republican presidential candidate will be made for operating purposes and with the announcement of his plans at his headquarters late yesterday it was stated that there would be no efforts to organize demonstrations at any of these. The nominee, however, will greet those who visit the stations to welcome him and will make extemporaneous talks to them.

The first stop will be at Cumberland, Maryland, early next Thursday night. Hoover will make a brief talk there. His train then will cross West Virginia overnight, proceeding into Kentucky early Friday. The nominee will speak from the rear platform of his train at Louisville, where his Democratic opponent delivered one of his major talks in his tour of a part of the border states.

National Radio Hookup.

The Hoover special will reach St. Louis about 6:30 o'clock Friday evening and the Republican standard bearer will speak at the Coliseum there at 8 o'clock, central standard time, with his address carried to the country over a nationwide radio hookup. Immediately after the speech Hoover will return to his train, which will pull out for Grand Island, Nebraska, where it will be routed over the Overland Trail, the shortest way to California by rail.

Much of Saturday will be spent in crossing the home state of Senator George W. Norris, Republican independent, who announced yesterday that he would take the stump for Governor Alfred E. Smith, because "for a progressive there is no other place to land except in the Smith Camp." There was no comment from Hoover headquarters on the Norris pronouncement.

Final Appeal Day Before Election.

Hoover will arrive at his Palo Alto home early on the afternoon of November 5 and from there study there late in the day he will make his final talk of the campaign over the radio, urging all voters to go to the polls on November 6. He himself plans to cast his ballot early on election day at his voting precinct on Stanford University campus.

With his chief attention directed now to his St. Louis address, the nominee has given little thought to the details of the one he will deliver at Palo Alto, where on August 11 he was notified of his selection as the Republican nominee.

Hoover had few engagements today, and his plans were to spend much of his time at his S street home where he could work without interruption on his final major address.

LOCH SHELDRAKE BANDIT PASSES THROUGH CITY

A parole officer from Sing Sing prison stopped between trains today at the county jail where his prisoner, one of the bandits who held up the Casino at Loch Sheldrake a few weeks ago was held until train time. The prisoner was on parole from Dannemora State Prison at the time of the holdup. He was being transferred from Goshen jail, where he was held following his arrest, to Sing Sing prison where he will no longer be before the parole board later this month.

Shot To Death.

Buffalo, Oct. 25 (AP).—Wilfred Wolf, of Getzville, was shot and killed early today as he attempted to prevent an unidentified man from driving away in his automobile. Although neighbors were aroused and the man was seen speeding toward Main street, police had no clues except a single-barreled sawed-off shotgun which the slayer abandoned before he fled in another car.

Wind and Weather Balks Zeppelin

But Commander of Dirigible Hopes to Start on Midwest Tour Tonight—Airplane Pilots Warned Against Flying Too Close to Ship.

Lakehurst, N. J., Oct. 25 (AP).—Balked by adverse and unfavorable weather reports from starting the Graf Zeppelin on her midwest tour last night, Dr. Hugo Eckener today hoped the start could be made this evening.

The postponement was made when the weather bureau reported a low pressure area over the midwest which Dr. Eckener felt was sure to mean low clouds and low visibility, making it difficult for those on the ground to get a good view of the Zeppelin as she sailed overhead. Poor visibility, he said, would defeat the purpose of the flight, which is to show the Zeppelin to the people of the midwest.

A 20-mile an hour wind at the harbor, which would have made hazardous any attempt to remove the big dirigible from her quarters, also influenced the Zeppelin's commander in his decision.

The passengers, including Rear Admiral Moffett, Lieutenant Commander Hugh V. Wiley, of the dirigible Los Angeles, and many other representatives of the government as well as private individuals were visibly disappointed at the delay. They had waited at the harbor from before 6 p. m. expecting momentarily to be ordered aboard the Zeppelin for the start of their journey.

The itinerary for the flight, still remained tentative, but it was believed Dr. Eckener would attempt to visit all the cities he had previously announced as on the Zeppelin's route. It was seen as a strong possibility, however, that no stop would be made on the trip. He had previously planned to spend one night at Scott Field, Ill., continuing the trip next day.

Dr. Eckener has issued a warning against airplane pilots flying too close to the ship during her trip, during which pilots in various cities are planning to act as an air escort.

The plan to take the Los Angeles out of the harbor for a training flight immediately after the Graf Zeppelin starts for the midwest has been abandoned. Walking the Zeppelin out of the harbor will be enough work for the 450 men of the ground crew. It was said, without having to turn immediately to another job almost of the same magnitude.

CHECKING UP ALLEGED MURDER CONFESSION

Butler, Pa., Oct. 25 (AP).—County authorities today began checking up the alleged confession of Earl Jones, 38, garage proprietor, that he had shot his wife, took the body seven miles to an abandoned farm house and then burned the building.

The woman's charred body was found in the ruins of the house and was identified by neighbors.

Taken to the scene of the fire and later questioned by detectives, Jones is said to have confessed that his wife was shot during a struggle at their home here. The revolver, he said, was discharged accidentally.

After the shooting, he was quoted as saying, he took the body to the farm house, placed it inside and fed after setting the building on fire.

The quarrel resulted, Jones said, because his wife wanted to take an automobile ride at 9 o'clock at night when he returned from his garage. He was tired, he said, and wished to remain at home.

PEASANT RUNS AMUCK, KILLS SEVEN PERSONS

Warsaw, Poland, Oct. 25 (AP).—Seven persons, including two policemen, have been killed with a bayonet wielded by a peasant who ran amuck in the village of Smidy, in Nethynien. The peasant, named Mezowicz, wounded five others before he was disarmed and was dragged off to jail. There he regained his calm and said he thought he saw a devil.

Mezowicz had been expelled forcibly from a meeting of peasants and policemen were attracted to the scene by the sounds of the fight. Mezowicz grabbed a rifle from one of them and stabbed him to death. Another policeman who rushed to aid his comrade was slain in a like manner, as were five peasants who tried to disarm the madman.

Million Involved in Disagreement

Washington, Oct. 25 (AP).—Douglas Fairbanks computes his income in one way; the government adds it in another. Consequently, the famous moving picture star with his wife, the equally famous Mary Pickford, were in town today to keep an appointment at the treasury. Something over a million dollars was at stake.

The government contends that Fairbanks owes exactly $1,999,273.55 in unpaid federal taxes. It asserts that Miss Pickford also is delinquent, but to what extent has not been revealed. The dispute centers upon the method by which the stars market their pictures.

Fairbanks has taken four cases to the court of tax appeals—two involving the Douglas Fairbanks Picture Corporation, which he formerly owned; one involving the Elton Corporation, which he now owns and which in turn owns the Douglas Fairbanks Picture Corporation; and one involving his personal income. The cases extended over the period between 1917 and 1925, with the single exception of the year 1924.

Miss Pickford has taken no appeals. Only her own case was up for discussion at today's conference, but since the issues are identical with those of her husband, it was understood that any agreement reached would form a basis for settlement of the government's claims against both.

Yankee Doodle Over Wichita

Wichita, Kans., Oct. 25 (AP).—The Yankee Doodle, trans-continental airplane flying from New York to Los Angeles, passed the Wichita airport at 4:25 a. m. today. It was reported by George Comstock, local manager for National Air Transport.

The plane was flying southwest, Comstock said, at a low altitude.

Captain C. E. D. Collyer, who with John Henry Mears holds the round-the-world record, was at the controls. Back in the passenger's seat was Harry Tucker, owner of the plane and a passenger on the plane's other trans-continental flights.

The little cigar-shaped, white-winged plane roared down the trans-Atlantic runway at Roosevelt Field yesterday afternoon and took the air after a run of 1,700 feet at 4:16:35 p. m. It was loaded with 350 gallons of gasoline, enough for a 24-hour flight, a box of apples and two canteens of water.

Heading back over the same route Colonel Art Goodall took when he piloted the plane to a trans-continental record of 15 hours and 58 minutes from Los Angeles to Curtiss Field, Collyer and Tucker expected to reach Curtiss Field, Los Angeles, about noon today. They did not expect to beat the trans-continental record but hoped to better that of Lieutenants O'Leary, Kelly and John A. MacRae for the east-to-west passage. The army fliers' record is 25 hours, 50 minutes and 35 seconds, made in 1926.

Many More Radios and Pictures of Surrounding Communities Were in the Downtown District of This City Today for the Opening of the Third Annual Community Sale Conducted by Members of the Downtown Business Men's Association, and Prepared Satisfactory Bargains. Purchasers Said the Merchants Laid Up to Their Profit, That They Would Slash Prices on All Articles and Offer Special Articles at Very Low and Attractive Prices.

Although there was not a crowd on downtown streets at any one time during the day, shoppers steadily visited the stores and kept the regular and extra clerks busy. There were few leisure moments, according to those who waited on the shoppers, for the successive visits of purchasers kept the clerks on the go.

After work hours in the various factories and industries tonight, it is expected that many will visit the downtown stores. There will be plenty of bargains left for economical buyers as the merchants stocked up heavily for the three days' sale, which started today and will be continued Friday and Saturday.

Free Radio For Somebody

Tonight at 8 o'clock one of the Atwater Kent radios will be given away in front of The Freeman building. A number will be drawn from a box and the holder of the corresponding one will be given an Atwater Kent, model 40, all-electric radio. The box containing the numbers will be supported by a stand to be erected by the city. A crowd is anticipated for the drawing of the numbers, so extra policemen will be detailed to the downtown streets to see that traffic is kept moving in an orderly manner.

Anyone who has not taken a free chance on the three radios to be given away by the Downtown Business Men's Association may get coupons at the stores participating in the Third Annual Community Sale. They are marked by orange and blue banners. Any adult may get a coupon for the asking. Children will not be given coupons.

Steady Stream of Customers

"Yes, it opened with a rush of customers to our downtown stores this morning and a steady stream of purchasers has kept up throughout the day," said President Harry Kaplan of the Downtown Business Men's Association when asked about the Third Annual Community Sale. Mr. Kaplan believed that hundreds of bargain hunters had procured coupons for the three radios to be given away in connection with the sale.

More Merchants in Sale.

Through error the names of several downtown firms were omitted in Wednesday's Freeman from the advertisement of the Downtown Business Men's Association, explaining all about the great Third Annual Community Sale now in progress. Connolly Drug Company, Cohen Furniture Company, Tudor Brothers and Benjamin W. Johnston, druggist, were the names left out of the page "ad." Coupons for a chance on the Atwater Kent radios to be given away free may be obtained at these stores. All of the stores participating in the Third Annual Community Sale, which opened this morning, have banners in the show windows, that direct shoppers to bargains.

Greenwald Denies It.

In The Freeman Wednesday appeared a large advertisement of Greenwald's shoe store in which very attractive prices were quoted. One price not so attractive was that of $145 per pair for a mixed lot of Ralston shoes for men. King of Rumania On Good Behavior

He is Seven Years Old and Likes 18,000,000 Subjects Through a Regency Council—Celebrates His Birthday in Becoming Boyish Manner.

Sinaia, Rumania, Oct. 25 (AP).—King Mihai of Rumania forsook his tin soldiers, rubber-tired scooter and Babe Ruth baseball uniform today, resisted the temptation to pull the tail of his pet Spaniel and tried to maintain for one day at least the good behavior expected of a man of seven, ruler over 18,000,000 subjects.

Rumania's towseled-haired sovereign looks today like any American boy of seven. His mother, Princess Helen, guards him from the world as an army would protect an emperor from enemy attack. Under her care King Mihai is being reared in almost Spartan simplicity. He is more difficult to see than the king of England or the Pope of Rome and the Associated Press correspondent is the only journalist permitted to talk with him in the royal palace.

Mihai is a charming, robust, smiling, unspooled boy, unusually intelligent, good natured and spirited. Following his mother's example Mihai never speaks of his father, Prince Carol, who abandoned the Rumanian throne and is now living in Paris. Apparently the young king never remembers his father except when the latter sends him toys, as he frequently does.

His favorite pastimes are flying a large kite, about big enough to drag its owner into the air, playing Russian, riding away, his pony, or racing his dog, Mumbo, around the palace grounds.

He has a second category of amusements which he keeps for moments when he is out of range of watchful eyes. He is fond of playing with matches and his English nurse, Miss Elizabeth St. John, must watch him constantly. Ticking the Spaniel's ear with a straw and yanking his tail are two other diversions which, while not absolutely forbidden, must be indulged in sparingly.

Princess Helen told The Associated Press that her chief purpose was to prevent King Mihai from becoming a spoiled, pampered child. "I want him to be a manly chap," she said, "sturdy, obedient and with a strong sense of duty to his mother and to his country. I have his health, exercise and food supervised regularly by experts familiar with modern standards."

"His food is prepared and weighed according to the rules of scientific prescriptions. A specialist gives him a physical examination at regular intervals. A trained physical culture expert gives him drill in physical development and games three times each week in his private gymnasium."

"Mihai is not a super-normal child just because he is a king. He has all the faults of a boy of his age. When he is mischievous he must be corrected and reprimanded. But I must say, on the whole, he is exceptionally obedient and tries hard to please me in every way."

Amazing Joy of Childhood.
At present English is the only language he speaks well. But I am having him tutored daily in reading and writing Rumanian. Later he will study French, German and Italian. The responsibilities of his position as king will not be forced on him until he is old enough to realize their significance. He must first taste the joy of childhood. He is still too young to know the sorrow in which his father's desertion has left both of us."

Although today is celebrated as the king's birthday, Mihai naturally has to elect part in the administration of the state. A regency council, composed of his uncle, Prince Nicholas; Patriarch Miron Cristea, of the Rumanian Church, and Dr. George Iuduzukan, chief justice of the supreme court, will exercise sovereign power until the king is 18 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. John Royce have returned to their home at Rochester after spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Crawford.

All those who attended the Men's Community Club on Thursday last had a real treat. Judge Smith gave a very interesting talk on "Our Responsibilities to the Present Generation."

At the Parent-Teacher Association meeting on Thursday of last week plans were discussed to secure playground apparatus for the school children. Committees were appointed to look into the manner of buying such equipment.

The C. E. of the Reformed Church will hold a "Hard Time Social" in the basement of the Reformed Church on Thursday, November 1. All the young people are invited. Further announcement will be made later.

The new road through the village of Stone Ridge, Oct. 25.—The Builders' Society of the M. E. Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Culver on Saturday afternoon of this week at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Luther Garrison has returned home after spending a week with her sister in Connecticut.

Several letters have been received from Dr. James Cantine. It will be remembered that Dr. Cantine left on August 25 for his missionary work in Mesopotamia. He reports a fine trip and also much thanks to resume his labors there. His many friends are glad to hear of his successful trip and wish him Godspeed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Royce have returned to their home at Rochester after spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Crawford.

All those who attended the Men's Community Club on Thursday last had a real treat. Judge Smith gave a very interesting talk on "Our Responsibilities to the Present Generation."

At the Parent-Teacher Association meeting on Thursday of last week plans were discussed to secure playground apparatus for the school children. Committees were appointed to look into the manner of buying such equipment.

International Association (PARIS) recognizes World Records OF STUDEBAKER President Eight

A cablegram from Paris, dated September 28th, states that the International Association of Recognized Automobile Clubs has accorded the Studebaker President five world records for stamina and speed—the greatest for any class of car for all time!

These records were established when The President Eight traveled 30,000 miles in 26,326 consecutive minutes at Atlantic City Speedway, July 21 to August 9!

The International Association does not differentiate between "special built" racing cars and "stock" cars. This makes the triumph of Studebaker's

President Eight even more remarkable—because the four Presidents, each of which traveled 30,000 miles, were strictly stock—selected at random from Studebaker assembly lines by officials of the American Automobile Association.

Because The President offers marvelous eight-cylinder performance at a One-Price it outsells every other eight-cylinder car in the world, regardless of price or type.

For as little as $1685 you can own a Champion President Eight—identical in every detail with those which have established new world records for speed and endurance!

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified croscote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, croscote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to croscote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the croscote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

such a comfort!

Planning menus, marketing, entertaining—these three duties of the home-maker are vastly simplified when she has a General Electric Refrigerator.

And more important is the pleasant feeling of security—the absolute knowledge that her family's food is always fresh and wholesome. Even in winter, scientifically correct refrigeration is vital. Kitchens are warm all the year round, and food, to be wholesome—to be safe to eat, needs to be kept constantly at a temperature below 50 degrees.

The General Electric Refrigerator is different from all others—it is truly "years ahead" in design. All its mechanism is sealed in an air-tight steel casing, which is up on top, forever safe from dust and difficulties. It never even needs oiling.

The General Electric Refrigerator is guaranteed to give you perfect refrigeration—quietly, automatically and economically! Come in and see this most modern of all refrigerators. You may buy yours either for cash or on deferred payments.

Special Session, Says McMullen

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 25 (P)—Governor Adam McMullen today said Herbert Hoover will call a special session of Congress for the sole purpose of taking up the agricultural question if he is elected president of the United States. "On my own satisfaction, I had a conference a few weeks ago with Mr. Hoover," the governor said. "I wanted to know whether he meant business about doing something for agriculture. For an hour we talked over the table alone. He said he contemplated, if elected, calling a special session of Congress for the sole purpose of taking up the agricultural question. He said that if a special session of Congress was not called it would be a year before the question could be taken up and another year before any kind of legislation could be put into operation."

News of Interest to Members of Fraternal Societies.

Clinton Chapter, No. 445, O. E. S., will tender a reception to R. W. Cyrus T. Carle, recently appointed assistant grand lecturer of the Green-Elster district, on Friday evening at the regular meeting at Masonic Hall, Wall street. A special program has been arranged for the occasion. All Stars and Master Masons are invited to be present.

Mechanics' Hall was the scene of a very pleasant and joyful time on Tuesday evening of this week when the members of Vanderlyn Council, No. 41, D. of A., gave one of their fellow members, Mrs. Ella M. Snow, the newly elected state associate vice counselor, a reception. Guests were present from Rensselaer, Catskill, Saugerties, Highland, Poughkeepsie and Newburgh, and the following state officers were introduced: State Associate Vice Counselor Ella M. Snow, State Deputies Mary McCulloch of Rensselaer, Robert L. Smith of Saugerties, Suzanne E. Becker of Highland and Elizabeth Ward of Kingston. During the evening a very pleasing musical program was rendered, consisting of songs by Mrs. Elizabeth Becker, accompanied by Mrs. Carrie Mullen, and violin solos by Master Frederick Buchanan, accompanied by Miss Babcock, after which about 200 members gathered around the tables which were filled with good things to eat. Much credit is due to Sister Hart, counselor of Vanderlyn, and her very able committee for the supper and also for the decorations, which were in keeping with Halloween. Sister Snow received many useful gifts from her friends in Vanderlyn Council, and also from McKinley Council of Newburgh, over which she served as deputy for a number of years. Each one left wishing Sister Snow success and one more of the many pleasant social events connected with being a member of Vanderlyn Council came to a close.

A KING'S EDUCATION.

President Roosevelt would have been no less interested than many American children are likely to be in the account of the schooling of little King Mihai of Rumania.

For Mr. Roosevelt thought it desirable that American children of all classes, even the most wealthy or "aristocratic," should learn the public school system which they will learn their earliest and most lasting lessons in democracy.

And this is precisely what little King Mihai seems to be expected to do. According to the Budapest dispatch, he is not to be kept aloof under carefully chosen private tutors, as were most youthful kings in the past, but he is to rub elbows with all classes of children of his own age, children of peasants and artisans as well as of nobles.

What will interest American children, particularly those who "hate school" and have an impression from story books that a royal boy is always free to please himself, is that little King Mihai also must learn "logography," the multiplication table, long division, the "rule of three," and all those tiresome regulations of speech which the grammarians impose on unwilling youngsters who would prefer to get along with a few overworked slang phrases.

The story of King Mihai's education will tend to correct the mistaken impression of many American adults as well. It is realized in the monarchies of Europe, now more fully than ever before, that a king above all must be competent, and that the larger his personal knowledge of all classes of his subjects the better for him as well as for them.

A MURDERER'S MIND.

Edward Hickman, executed for the horrible murder of a child, was formally declared sane, and so legally responsible for his acts. So he was put out of the way for the safety of society and an example to others. With that, few will quarrel. At the same time it is permissible to inquire whether in reality, as well as in law, the young man really was sane.

Sanity is a vague, broad term. Hickman always had a strong desire to attract attention to himself. He wanted the center of the stage, something like the historic youth who burned the temple at Ephesus to make himself remembered. Hickman's mother was a religious fanatic, subject to uncontrollable rages, who often threatened to kill her children and spent some time in an asylum.

His mother's mother was known as "Crazy Becky." His mother's father, like his mother herself, was a religious fanatic given to brainstorms.

Obviously it was a bad heritage. There was a stream of mental abnormality. The stock was defective. It was a family of social misfits, extending through three known generations. Scientists do not know enough yet to explain people like Hickman, or help them much. Some day society may be able to do more than merely protect itself from him and his kind. So far we are not even doing that very well.

The New Bedford textile strike, one of the most stubbornly fought contests in the history of American industry, ended in a compromise. The workers, who had demanded a raise, accepted a reduction, but it was not so great a reduction as the employers had proposed in the first place. Thus neither side gains anything. Both sides lose. The workers have lost $20,000,000 in wages. The employers have lost sales amounting to more than that. And business lost is not immediately won back. The sales gap in the cotton goods market left by that shut-down was filled by other factories. The New Bedford manufacturers will have a struggle to regain their market. Until they regain it, the whole textile industry in New Bedford must suffer, and the whole community with it. That the dispute must end in a compromise was inevitable. That this compromise was not made at the beginning is unfortunate.

Eleven plotters have been executed and 200 arrested in Albania since Zogu declared himself King a few weeks ago, but he became habituated to excitement while dictator and he knew in advance that "uneasy lies the head that wears a crown" in his part of the world.

Even the icy and misnamed country of Greenland has a daily newspaper. It is printed in the Eskimo language and is ponderously entitled the Atuagagallit.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

BY James W. Barton, M. D.

WHY HOME TREATMENT FAILS.

A pathetic picture is the individual who has spent many months in a sanitarium for tuberculosis, and after being home for a while finds that the tuberculosis has again become active and he must return to the sanitarium.

In the majority of such cases, it is really the fault of the individual himself.

He may follow out at home some of the rules or habits of life he was taught at the sanitarium, but usually he fails to get sufficient sleep, and his tissues are thereby rendered unable to cope with the organism of tuberculosis.

In many places a patient with tuberculosis is sent to the sanitarium and his expenses paid by the community.

In other places there is no such provision and these patients are treated at home.

To take care of those unable to pay or be sent to a sanitarium, they are establishing what are called tuberculosis dispensaries in Great Britain.

This system "appeals both to the self interest and the intelligence of the patient, and keeps the physician in touch with patients not only during treatment, but for the purpose of after examination and after care."

This, together with the visits of the district nurse to the home of the patient, enables the patient to take care of himself.

In many of these cases the patient can go on with his daily work.

Because, after all, the treatment of tuberculosis is not by medicine. Rest of mind and body is the first big factor in the treatment, as active work or exercise in tuberculous patients wears them out.

Food is the second factor: meat, eggs, milk, always, with vegetables and fruit frequently, make up a diet that is wonderful from its body building power.

Fresh air is the third factor, and is absolutely essential in burning up the foodstuffs and giving heat, energy, and cell building power.

After these three things have reduced the temperature to normal, arrested the power of the tuberculosis organisms, and put some weight on the patient, then light daily outdoor exercise is given, beginning with 15 minutes and gradually increasing it to five hours daily. And this is all that is required of the patient whether at home or the sanitarium.

This same common sense method is the ideal treatment for any run down or worn out condition.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

White Plains, N. Y.—Walter Hagen's wife has a judgment against him for $1,056. Papers filed in court reveal that they agreed on November 17, 1927, to separate, he paying her $6,000 yearly in monthly installments.

The judgment represents drafts for two months that were not honored, plus interest. The Hagens were married in 1923.

Bucharest.—The newspaper Cuvantul says it is reported in court circles that Prince Nicholas is to marry a foreign princess. Her identity was not disclosed.

New York.—Nicky Arnstein's dress suit and top hat are among the things sold by Fannie Brice in an auction of her household goods. Her ex-husband's toes were knocked down for $2.75.

London.—Alfred Duggan, eldest son of Marchioness Curzon, is to marry Jocelyn Naira, daughter of one of London's great headmasters.

New York.—One vote for Hoover has been recorded in Smith's town already. George Kelly of Seattle, who is to be absent from home election day and has the privilege of mailing his ballot to the election board, went to the state campaign committee to see that everything was in order.

Baltimore.—Portia are unwelcome in the Baltimore Bar Association. It has declined to admit four women proposed by the four city judges.

New York.—Autograph fans will be pleased by the Presidential election, whoever wins. A dealer says that Hoover and Smith have written many letters for years; that Harding was not especially prolific and that Coolidge has been as economical of ink as of speech.

Moose Jaw, Sask.—Canary Koradyke Alcarita, of Boharm, Sask., Holstein, is a champion cow. In 305 days she produced 1,080 pounds of butter.

Norristown, Pa.—Averring that the only rabbit he ever trapped was kept as a pet for his little daughter, Charles Dougard is appealing from a sentence of 500 days in jail for violation of the game laws. It was imposed when he failed to pay a fine of $500 and costs of $6.95.

Macon, Ga.—Lee Battle, negro, who has been a servant at Mercer University 23 years and has made many loans to students, needs a transfusion of blood in order to undergo a major operation. Six students have volunteered.

His Lucky Day

A lucky purchase was made by a man at a farm sale at Burnard castle, England. After buying what was supposed to be a stone pig trough, he discovered on getting it home that it was a kind of undivided Roman origin, formerly used for the hand grinding of corn. It is probably four hundred years old.

A New York city school teacher tells about a little boy whose coat was so difficult to fasten that she went to his assistance. As she tugged at the buttons, she asked: "Did your mother buy this coat for you?" "No," was the reply, "she bought it."

Valuable Child Guidance Talks

The time has come when the question has been raised as to whether Americans as a people were more interested in raising prize cattle and other live stock than prize children. And there was some reason for such a viewpoint with all the care that was taken of the live stock, knowledge about them, etc.

Today all that is changed, and even more interest is being taken through Home and Farm Bureaus in the best growth and development of children.

It is hard to realize that for the inconsequential sum of fifty cents mothers of young children in Ulster county may attend a course of six lectures in special child guidance (really in child psychology) delivered by a specialist on that subject from Cornell University. What any intelligent mother or father, school teacher or Sunday school teacher can gain from these lectures would be cheap in results at $50.

On Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons of this week, at the courthouse, Dr. Marguerite Wilker, professor of child guidance from the State College of Home Economics, delivered two lectures on the modern method of bringing up and guiding very small children, that was a revelation. The subject of Tuesday's lecture was "Behavior of Young Children" and on Wednesday afternoon an audience of some fifty people, Dr. Wilker spoke on "New Ways of Guiding Children," stressing the right way of teaching a child the very beginnings of eating.

She showed convincingly that even the simplest form of such action is very complex for the little child who needs to be helped by mother and father, and then she showed how such help can rightfully be given. While the muscular activity of eating is necessary there is going on in the child's mind and heart, thoughts and feelings, all of which have a good or a bad influence upon the child. In fact the speaker made it very plain that what the child thinks and feels in his or her little inner self are of vital importance, and the mother and father should know how to recognize the child's thoughts and feelings if they would wisely direct activities. Dr. Wilker gave pointed and very effective illustrations of what she taught through her lecture that drove home the truth of her teaching. This afternoon her subject was "Wholesome Growth."

On November 14, 15 and 16, Dr. Wilker will give the last three of this course of six lectures. Many women, particularly college women, have been to much expense and deprivation, through university extension or actual attendance, to secure for her children that training of herself that will enable her in the wisest possible manner to guide her children. If the women of Ulster county realized this fact they would quickly increase the enrollment to its limit of 175. And Kingston parents will be just as welcome as those who live elsewhere in the county. In spite of missing the three lectures to date, it will be most worth while, by paying 50 cents, to be able to attend the last three lectures. The lectures begin at 2:30 o'clock.

No Way to Make It Attractive.
For some strange reason you can't make a thing attractive by describing it in unappealing and unappealing words.

The water of the story with the same.

"Did you enjoy the trip back from Los Angeles?"
"I'll say I did. A fellow who thought he had everybody fooled that he was Ricardo Cortez and a girl who apparently imagined that she could pass for Marjorie Day told a woman who was bent on conveying the impression that she was Irene Rich, that I was Tom Mix."

"Do you know," said the vacationist back home from the country, "that the milk they get up there in the country from cows is as good as any we get in bottles here."

This Way Out Please.
"When I proposed to Janet, she laughed at me."
"She's a silly child. She laughs at the most stupid things."

On Exhibition.
"Is this a genuine bloodhound?"
"Certainly. Oscar, bleed for the gentleman."

He was rather absent-minded, and his wife tied a piece of cotton around his finger to remind him to get his hair cut. On his way home he noticed the cotton and entered his barber's shop.

"Yes, sir," said the barber, a puzzled note in his voice.
"Eh? Oh, yes, cut my hair, please," commanded the absent-minded one.

"Certainly, sir," replied the barber. "If you wish it, but you won't mind my mentioning the fact that I cut it at lunch time today, will you?"

Some people who believe in themselves are evidently easily convinced.

Not long ago I heard a shoe dealer giving some instructions to a new clerk. Said he:

"When a lady customer comes in, you ask her the size of her feet. She says for example, six. You say, Oh, no. Five will fit you. Then fit her with an eight."

Editor Knows.

"Please, Mr. Editor," wrote a correspondent of a paper, "can you tell me how to prevent bleeding at the nose?"

"To prevent bleeding at the nose," replied the country editor, "keep it out of other people's business."

The eternal triangle doesn't worry the young father half as much as the fannel one.

Broadcasting Stations You Have Heard—WJAX

For over two years, "This is Station WJAX, Jacksonville, Florida, in the Land of Sunshine," is the call that has rolled out each night from the municipal station of the City of Jacksonville. And in this case, the radio station is the voice of the city and its citizens, for WJAX is one of the few strictly municipally owned and operated stations in the country. Perhaps because of this, Jacksonville folks are almost as proud of their radio station as they are of the superior quality of the sunshine that is characteristic of their tropical state and that, as any visitor to Florida knows, is saying a good deal.

WJAX first went on the air on Thanksgiving Day, 1925. Since that time it has received letters from practically every section of the country and South America, reporting on reception and the quality of the programs heard. One of these letters came from an Alaska listener while reports from ships at sea indicated that WJAX was one of the few stations which could be reached during the Dempsey-Tunney fight.

WJAX operates on a frequency of 890 kilocycles and a wave length of 336.9 meters. The station is equipped with a Western Electric transmitter with a rating of one kilowatt. It is equipped with forty remote control lines which connect the station with 16 churches, 4 hotels, 10 city parks, the municipal stadium, the State Fairgrounds, the baseball park and 4 theaters. Thus the station can be immediately linked up with any event and be "on dial" for thousands. One of the innovations made by WJAX was the broadcasting of music to the city parks of Jacksonville by means of a Western Electric public address system. An orchestra was engaged to play at the studio two programs daily which were heard through the horns installed in the ten principal parks of the city. This plan was enthusiastically received as the warm weather makes it possible for music lovers to be in the open the majority of the days in the year.

Direct supervision of the station is in the hands of T. C. Imeson, City Commissioner, while the operation of the station is under the direction of John T. Hopkins, 34, who is chief engineer and program director. Mr. Hopkins is one of the best known radio engineers in the South and has had experience in connection with presidential elections. His assistant is George Adams, who was formerly with the National Broadcasting Company in New York City.

Dog Attended Funeral
Quite recently a jettier followed his master's funeral to the parish church. He had been found by his owner half starved and had become a great pet and his constant companion. When he was refused admission to the church he showed his teeth and was allowed to enter. After attending the service the dog placed himself between the clergyman and the coffin and walked to the cemetery.—London Answer.

Great Struggle In Baltimore

Prohibition and Religion Carry Almost the Whole Burden of Debate—Democratic Hope Is Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 25 (P)—Maryland on the war maps of Republicans and Democrats alike as a difficult salient in the presidential campaign. Maryland is passing through a political struggle of greater severity than outward appearances have disclosed.

The contest here has not been advertised by the eccentrics so marked this year in other parts of the country. The lines are more clearly drawn, with prohibition and religion carrying almost the whole burden of public debate. Boiling has been at a minimum among party leaders, and although plenty of moving about has been apparent in the ranks, on the whole the struggle is between two powerful party organizations. Nor is either destitute of the financial sinews of war.

Three latter days of October are giving a demonstration of all that could reasonably be expected of the windup of a sizzling campaign in a closely contested state. Both sides speak confidently of the outlook, but neglect no honest opportunity to turn a vote. Both are checking and re-checking reports from county and precinct captains, and both frankly concede that it is difficult this year to get at the precise outlines of the situation.

Such a picture of contradictions and uncertainties is thoroughly consistent with Maryland's past performances in presidential years.

Electoral Vote Split.
Twice within the last quarter of a century—in 1904 and 1908—the result in the state has been so close that the electoral vote was split. Just before that Maryland voted twice for McKinley, and just afterward it voted twice for Wilson. It went Republican by 55,000 in the Harding landslide and Republican again by 14,000 in the Coolidge landslide.

In the face of these recent Republican pluralities the Democrats have cherished a prohibition enforcement act on its statute books. It lies within that bloc of states described by the Anti-Saloon League as making up the "eastern wet sector."

Its Democratic governor, Albert C. Ritchie, has militantly favored modification of the dry laws, and he is serving his third term despite a Maryland precedent that no governor should succeed himself. The state also has two wet Democratic senators. It has a considerable Catholic population, and it has the great city of Baltimore, with its foreign colonies and its metropolitan no-man's-land.

Counties Outside Baltimore Dry.
But certain other considerations have taken their places in the picture. Many of the counties outside Baltimore are dry, and are appealed to now for the first time in a presidential campaign on the prohibition

TUNEFUL POLITICS ON AIR

Irwin Kurtz, chairman of the radio division of the New York State Hoover-Curtis Committee, opens the G. O. P. radio hour over WEA, New York, during which the history of the Republican party in song and story will be given every Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday evening until election.

issue. It happens that some of the driest are the normally Democratic and strongly Methodist counties on Maryland's "eastern shore." In that section Bishop Cannon has spoken against Smith and many Methodist ministers are active on behalf of Hoover. The widest discussion of Governor Smith's religion likewise is apparent, although the Republicans disclaim any connection with that issue. In addition, the state's Democratic leaders are passing through a factional fight, the possible effect of which on November 6 is disputed.

To partially offset their admitted losses in the eastern shore counties and other Democratic communities, the Democrats expect to win the votes of many Catholic Republicans in the southern end of the state. They also count on many Republican wetters and they expect a very large defection among the normally Republican negro voters of the state, numbering some 50,000.

Democratic Hope Is Baltimore.

Geographically, the great Democratic hope is Baltimore, with its strong anti-prohibition sentiment and its foreign elements. The party managers insist that even if Hoover comes to the city limits with the 25,000 or more majority which the Republicans are claiming outside, that margin will be overturned by the vote in the city. They depend on Governor Smith's forthcoming visit here to insure him a sweep of irresistible proportions.

The Republicans are not conceding such a sweep; indeed, they are not conceding that Smith will carry Baltimore at all. They recall that Harding had a plurality of nearly 40,000 here in 1920, and that four years ago, in a three-way split, Coolidge had a city plurality of 5,000 over Davis. They do not agree with Democratic claims that the foreign vote, particularly that of the German-Americans, will go solidly for Smith, and they declare Democratic defections will be far greater than the Democratic leaders realize. Governor Ritchie, the leader of the party in the state, is on the stump for Smith, whose nomination he seconded at Houston after he had himself withdrawn as a candidate for the presidency. He is not up for reelection, but Senator Bruce, one of the foremost state crides of the dry law, is running for another term on the ticket with Smith.

ABSOLUTELY - the most thrilling performance of my experience...and then think of the price

Thus, thousands are voicing their new discovery!

And the occasion—a nation-wide program of personal demonstrations on the greatest scale in Hudson history.

New thousands literally "discovered" Hudson for the first time.

For the first time they travelled so fast with such safety, smoothness and exhilarating ease.

For the first time they met tall hills that seemed to vanish under Hudson's mighty power.

For the first time they sprang lengths ahead at the getaway, with no sense of mechanical exertion.

For the first time they witnessed incomparable performance delivered with a fuel economy that averaged from 16 to 18 miles per gallon, according to the local conditions of demonstration.

And the concrete results were the largest proportion of Hudson retail sales of any demonstration program of all time.

Won't you take a ride? Perhaps you too will discover in this moderately priced Hudson a performance, smoothness, and riding ease that even the costliest cars cannot surpass.

Business Girls' Club Celebrates

The Business Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. at its weekly supper at the Y. W. on Wednesday evening took part in the celebration of the national banquet of Business and Professional Girls' Clubs. Directly at the close of the supper Miss Messinger, the president, announced that the supper next week would be a Halloween supper and the hour would be 6:30 o'clock instead of 6 o'clock as usual. The girls were asked to come in costume—any costume, whether particularly a Halloween costume or not—and to wear a tiny face mask, the latter to be removed as the girls take their places at the tables. Of course no girl need stay away from the supper because it is inconvenient for her to come in costume, but the more "dressed up" girls there are, the more fun there will be. Miss Herdman—Billie, of course—announced a like over the hills—not to the poor house, but to Rhinebeck, on Saturday afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock. All desiring to go should wear hiking clothes and be at the Y. W. promptly at 2 o'clock. Another announcement was to the effect that Friday night of this week will be Membership Rally Night at which time the Girl Reserves will give as the entertainment part of the program, a Y. W. edition of Mother Goose.

Miss Messinger spoke of the wonderful spirit of the nation-wide banquet with its 400 to 500 organizations of business and professional girls participating. She considered it a marvelous influence for unity.

Miss Frances Leonard gave a very interesting account of the Business and Professional Girls' National Council Assemblies and was followed by Miss Mary Howard who told with especial vividness and force of Miss Elsie West, representative at the World's Y. W. C. A. Council at Budapest, and in an equally admirable manner of the council itself.

One of the very finest things that the Y. W. is doing is helping its business and professional girls to stand up before an audience, particularly of their peers, and tell directly, in a pleasing and convincing manner of their work, aims and hopes.

As a fitting climax to the international as well as national character of the meeting Miss Ellen Van Slyke delighted the girls with a talk on "Other Y's," which she had visited while on her trip, around the world. Those that she described intimately and vividly were at Singapore, in which city she met a Kingston High School girl who will be remembered as Miss Dorothy Danglemond. Miss Van Slyke also visited Canton, China, Shanghai and Peking and Kyoto, Japan. Nor did she fail to tell of the wonderful Y. W. C. A. at Honolulu. The girls were enthusiastic in their expressions of appreciation of Miss Van Slyke's talk. A week from next Wednesday she will speak on her visit to Japan.

Conditions in Porto Rico Critical; Half Million Under Red Cross Care

WITH all communication lines completely destroyed and many sections separated by mountains and other natural barriers, the work is only now beginning to realize the extent of destruction. The pitiful plight of a half million sufferers in hurricane stricken Porto Rico.

Red Cross workers, traversing the island by automobile and in some places on foot, are bringing back stories of conditions among the people such as the United States has never known—not even following disasters.

With their huts gone, their banana trees stripped, coffee trees destroyed, and sugar cane lying flat in the fields, the people are literally destitute and dependent on the Red Cross for the bare necessities of life.

Stories told in official reports by workers used to disaster conditions tell of roving bands up in the mountains during the early stages of relief, going from place to place in search of food. Living on tropical fruits blown down by the hurricane, sleeping on the ground with neither bedding nor shelter; drinking water wherever it was found, some of it pure, some polluted; and for medical aid for their sick and injured depending on a kindly Providence; are some of the conditions the relief organization has had to combat.

The disaster is so big and suffering so intense that transportation and other facilities of the island have been taxed to capacity in rushing to the interior only those things considered essential to life and health. Tons of food, thousands of coats, coats and blankets, truck loads of medical supplies, and caravans of clothing are moving daily from San Juan and other points to keep the situation under control.

With upwards of a hundred thousand families, comprising nearly a half million persons, dependent on it for their subsistence, the Red Cross is facing one of the largest tasks it has ever undertaken. The appreciation of Porto Rico for the prompt answer from the States to her call for help is evident everywhere.

Contributions to the Red Cross $5,000,000 disaster relief fund all went direct to the disaster sufferers in Porto Rico, the Virgin Islands and Florida, but officials of the organization explain that the Red Cross, in order to maintain the organization in a position to act as the great national disaster relief agency, depends entirely upon membership dues paid once a year at the time of the annual Roll Call. This year the Red Cross is seeking five million members.

A Need Indeed

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Oct. 25 (AP)—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets)—The demand for cabbage again was slow this morning and in consequence the market and values showed no material changes. Moderate supplies were on hand at most terminals in New York city and Brooklyn. The latest jobbing sales on White Danish in bulk were reported at $25-$30 per ton.

The country's cabbage shipments for the week decreased one-fourth to 950 cars, whereas last season the movement for the corresponding week totaled 1,512 cars.

Active trading and light supplies further strengthened the market on Concord grapes. Prices were higher and wholesale business on Western and Central New York 12-quart baskets was transacted at 60c-65c, occasionally as high as 70c.

Supplies of upstate New York cut to $2. Upland carrots realized $2-$2.25.

Apple receipts were relatively light from all sections of the state. Fancy large Greenings and well-colored soft table varieties were in demand but few were to be had. Washington Jonathan apples bid out at $1.95-$2.35 per box. Delicious brought $1.95-$2.35; McIntoshes $1.60-$2.50; Rome Beauties $1.55-$2.60 and McIntoshes $1.95-$2.15.

Trading was generally slow on lettuce and prices therefore tended lower in a weaker market. Western New York big Boston peddled out from $25c-$30c, rarely $1.75.

The demand for celery was only fair but prices held about steady, especially on fancy, well-blended stock. Offerings in the open market in two-thirds crate realized $2.50-$3.25 for the best and $1.25-$2.25 on the poor to ordinary. One year ago state celery sold at $1-$2.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Several of the most perfect Wednesday afternoon and evening, with a musical program, was the local district and a short period of music in the early evening. The musical program was received perfectly and the various program features, especially the scholastic competition, were good.

Reception this morning was first class.

The next in the weekly series of the company's programs featuring the "Radio Hour" was sponsored by the Letting Coal and Navigation Company, presents that artist in a program of songs by Edward MacDowell to be broadcast through the N.Y.C. System, Sunday, October 28, at 7 o'clock, eastern standard time. Dealing with one of the most representative of all American composers, the American baritone has selected a group of songs most truly representative of MacDowell.

John Charles Thomas, operatic baritone, and Grace Hayes, popular radio soprano, will be the guest artists in the Oakland, Pontiac Hour of the General Motors Family Party next Monday evening. Orchestral music will be under the direction of George Olsen. The young conductor recently achieved Broadway fame in "Kid Boots" and the "Follies," and with his orchestra in "Whoopie," in rehearsal. The program is announced as one of "All American" music, offering symphony by the orchestra, intimate ballads and popular songs by Miss Hayes, and classical or semi-classical selections by Mr. Thomas. The Family Party on Monday evening will also be a celebration of the appearance of the new Oakland All American Six, recently shown for the first time in Detroit. No musical instrument is more appropriately associated with the free, gay life of the gipsy than the guitar.

And so modern civilization is more closely linked in the popular mind with gipsy love and life than "The Gipsy Love Song" from Victor Herbert's light opera, "The Fortune Teller." This number will be the featured number of the Stoenberg-Carlson program of October 26 from 10 to 11:30, through WJZ and associated radio stations. Andy Saxe, the guitarist, is a recent acquisition to the ranks of the Stoenberg-Carlson musicians.

Mr. Thomas, the Welsh tenor from the Paris Opera, and Leonora Cortez, concert pianist, will present the concert in the Atwater Kent Radio Hour, Sunday night, assisted by the orchestra under the well known Metropolitan conductor, Josef Pasternack. Prominent in Mr. Thomas's contribution to this varied program will be found an Air from the Judas Macabre of Handel; La Donna e mobile ("Woman is Fickle") from Rigoletto; Le Reve ("The Dream") from Maseur. He will close the concert with Gounod's Ave Maria.

Thirty minutes of American music, including those perennial favorites, "My Old Kentucky Home," "Old Black Joe" and other Stephen Foster melodies, quaint of tone and appealing to American audiences, as few other composers' works have ever done, will comprise the program of the Eveready Hour, Tuesday evening, October 29.

News From the World on Wheels

Closing time for entries in the Old Car Contest which is being conducted by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce has been extended to November 15. There are cash prizes totaling $1,500. There are also special awards of a new Yellow Cab or an automobile worth up to $2,000 for information as to the location of one of the electric hansom cabs, made by the Electric Vehicle Company, prior to September, 1899. Further particulars of the contest may be obtained from the Chamber offices, 365 Madison avenue, New York.

ish glove counters—and what a problem the selection of one's gloves has become.

In the days when white kid gloves were the essence of elegance the problem was only to have a sufficient supply.

Nowadays, elegance is expressed by having the glove chosen to complement the total effect of the costume —and even further to carry out its spirit. Each pair has distinction, in color and decoration. The most revolutionary color is navy, but it goes without saying that one would not choose a navy glove or shoe—and there are navy shoes—unless one's costume was wholly, or in part of that color.

Great attention is given to the treatment of the gauntlet, for practically all the gloves have a happy, rather than an abrupt and uninteresting ending. Appliques, embroideries and all sorts of trickerie are resorted to for their decoration.
Two-tone effects are important, but there is a smart sponsorship, of the washable suede glove which repeats the tone of the stocking and fur trimming.

The sensational reappearance of long black gloves for evening was reported around the smart world, with the result that one hears rumors of their acceptance for such formal occasions as the opera.
Worth's glove, of gauntlet type, opens at the back of the hand for no other reason than to add chic and change. White kid gloves, like white lace, are ignored.

Daring Autoists
Shanghai TrooperPennsylvania Officer, Enforcing Headlight Regulation, Made Prisoner By and Forced to Witness Holding of Another Machine.Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 25 (AP).—
Shanghaied in an automobile by two men and a woman he was escorting to a police station and forced to witness the holding of another automobile State Patrolman Robert Troup of York today reported to his headquarters here that he had been left by his captors outside of Baltimore, Md., unharmed but relieved of his revolver.Troup, with another officer, was one of seven pairs of State Highway Patrol officers operating on the Lincoln highway east of Lancaster last night in a campaign to enforce the state regulations regarding headlights. On stopping a machine containing two men and a woman it was found that none of the occupants had a driver's license.Troup then is reported to have entered the machine and, preceded by the other highway patrolman on a motorcycle, was conducting the prisoners to the police station at Lancaster. After proceeding a short distance the officer on the motorcycle ahead looked around to discover that the automobile had disappeared.Some three hours later, and about 35 miles from the place where the car in which Troup was riding disappeared, an automobile driven by William Cameron, 18, accompanied by a girl, both of Penn Hill, Pa., was held up by the occupants of another machine. One of these, brandishing a revolver, and accompanied by a man in uniform, robbed Cameron and ordered him and his companion out of their car.When Cameron remarked that it was strange he was being held up when an officer was present, the bandit is reported to have said,
"That's all right, I am holding him up, too, and this is his gun."They are then said to have driven off in Cameron's machine while the other man and the woman followed in the other car. They headed towards the Maryland state line and two hours later Baltimore police notified authorities at Lancaster that Troup had appeared at police headquarters in that city.

Yellow Jackets Practice for Hard Game with Cohoes

Coach Preston will run his Yellow Jackets football team through a strenuous practice tonight to make ready for the Cohoes All-Stars, who will meet the locals at the Kingston Fair Grounds this Sunday. The Yellow Jackets will brush up on the aerial game at a practice session Friday night on the Athletic Field.

The Kingston players will have to depend strongly on the strategy of the game in order to stay with the All-Stars because the Cohoes boys are extremely heavy. According to information sent Managers Brooks and Craft of the Yellow Jackets, the Kingston boys will have the hardest time ever experienced trying to break through the opposing line.

In addition to being one of the heaviest teams in the up-state district, the Cohoes All-Stars are classed as one of the smartest eleven in their home territory. They have decisively licked scores of good opponents, including the Troy Bearcats, who although defeated put up a sterling battle against the Yellow Jackets a couple of weeks back.

All in all Kingston fans of the gridiron game are promised a real good game for next Sunday. It is hoped that lovers of the sport will turn out in a representative way to urge the local team in their efforts. The Yellow Jacket managers and players are doing their level best to please and have so far succeeded. Sunday's game is expected to crown their offerings for the portion of the season which has already passed.

METEORS DEFEATED GILDAY ALL-STARS WEDNESDAY

The Meteors outclassed the Gilday All-Stars 17-4 in a hotly contested football game at the Athletic Field Wednesday afternoon. Murray and Devereau scored the touchdowns for the winners, while Cullum crossed the last white line once for the Gilday All-Stars. The All-Stars had the substitution, Carter for Brennan.

The lineups:
All-Stars: L. E. Brennan, L. G. Norton, L. G. Cullum, R. T. Kraly, R. E. Devereau, L. H. B. Lewis, L. H. B. Dawkins, F. B. Linden.

SYRACUSE PLAYS PENN STATE ON SATURDAY

Syracuse, Oct. 25.—A Syracuse University football squad of 26 players, with managers, trainers, and coaches, left today for State College, Pa. On Saturday the Orangemen will meet Penn State for the seventh time. Only once has State been the victor.

Coach Lew Andrews will have his regular lineup available Saturday. Sam Sobu, hard hitting halfback, who was slightly injured in the tilt with Nebraska last week, has been pronounced fit for duty and he will be in the backfield with Captain Hal Baysinger, Warren Stevens and Mil Borman. This will give Syracuse its strongest possible secondary defense and its full offensive power.

Police Circles Quiet.
Police circles were quiet Wednesday night and no arrests were made by the police.

15 Eastern Teams Have Clean Slates

Army-Yale and Cornell-Princeton contests are certain to see some damage to the elite on Saturday. New York, Oct. 25 (AP).—Next Saturday ends the first half of the pre-season football season and fifteen eastern colleges approach it without having been defeated or tied. Nine more are on the unbeaten list but have had their records damaged by no-decision games.

Of the teams with perfect records, six, Duquesne, Haverford, Temple, Tufts, Williams and Villanova, are classed as small colleges and eliminated from consideration for big time honors, although some of their performances have come close to hitting them to a higher rank.

The Army-Yale and Cornell-Princeton encounters are certain to see some damage to the elite on Saturday. The Cadets and Yale meet with untarnished records and one of the other doubtless will be eliminated. Army is a slight favorite except for the traditional Yale jinx which has cost them all but four of the 27 games they have played against the Blue. Opinion likewise favors Princeton, held to a scoreless tie by Virginia, over Cornell which has won three straight.

Georgetown and Boston college are the only big colleges that seem certain of maintaining clean slates. They meet comparatively weak opponents in Duke and Boston University. Pennsylvania also has good prospects of continuing undefeated unless Navy suddenly finds itself and turns on the Red and Blue to score one of the season's numerous upsets. Among the small colleges Haverford and Villanova seem safe, playing St. John's of Annapolis and Lebanon Valley.

The possibility of a wide swath being cut in the ranks of the unbeaten eleven lies in the three remaining battles. Dartmouth goes to Cambridge a favorite to beat Harvard but the Crimson will be no set-up even after a defeat by Army last week. New York University will have a tough time with Colgate, which held the Violet to a scoreless tie last year and did enough damage to cripple the New York team for its remaining games. Carnegie Tech. and Pittsburgh will stage their annual city championship battle, hard fought and uncertain even when one team theoretically is far better than the other. Each one has had one hard game, Carnegie beating Washington and Jefferson and Pitt losing to West Virginia.

Williams and Tufts go somewhat out of their class to play Columbia and Brown but they are not yet definitely slated for defeats. Both have fine records while their opponents have lost to stronger teams. Temple and Duquesne, the two remaining unbeaten and untied teams, meet opponents of their own calibre in Providence and Geneva.

Besides Princeton, among the teams whose records have been marred only by ties, Lafayette and Bucknell stand out. They played a scoreless game last Saturday. Lafayette has caught a tartar in West Virginia which has fought its way back into contention for eastern honors after a defeat by Davis and Elkins. Bucknell has a dangerous although apparently outclassed opponent in Gettysburg.

Although the interest in Saturday's games is centered chiefly in the undefeated teams that remain in the race for the mythical championship, those who have lost also can claim a part in the spotlight. Holy Cross will play the leading intercollegiate game against Marquette; Penn State and Syracuse will engage in their annual encounter which is always one of the high spots of the eastern season; and Amherst and Wesleyan will open the little three rivalry.

The following men will make up the Hupmobile squad this year and every one is requested to be present at the Friday night meeting, which will be conducted by Bob Corrigan, coach of the team: Bill Wonderly, Jay Moynaux, Ernie Smith, Andy Gilday, Hymie Aduchefski and Earl McLane.

Local Fighters on Newburgh Card

Charlie Molvin, one of the best little scrappers of a small men's class ever turned out in Kingston, will appear in a six round bout against Ray Halverson of Newburgh at the Newburgh armory Friday night, October 26. Dewey Van Buren, another Kingston scrapper, will exchange blows with Mickey Farkus of Newburgh in a four rounder. The show will start at 8:15.

Kingston is meeting the demand of exacting fight fans lately in producing exponents of the manly art and within a short time local boys will be on New York city cards. It is expected. The services of Charlie Molvin, protégé of Doc Stender, are being looked for along the Hudson valley by fans who have seen him box in the local armory. It is expected that his winning ways will be greatly admired in Newburgh Friday night.

Van Buren and Molvin will fight on a card that is slated for 38 lively rounds of boxing, well punctuated by knockouts. Joe Mulligan of Newburgh and Charles Nelson of the 102nd Medical Regiment of New York city will be the scrappers to meet in the main event.

"Y" Bowling Alleys Ready

The four bowling alleys at the Central Young Men's Christian Association have all been resurfaced and put in first class condition ready for the coming season. Pins and balls have been inventoried thoroughly and the poor ones replaced with new.

Plans for the Mercantile Bowling League are fast nearing completion and the first meeting of the season will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Monday night at 8 o'clock. That the league will be a good one is evidenced by the inquiries that have been made from the various industries of the city. Southard and Belcher, Oldsmobile dealers, have already made application to enter a team and it is expected that several other new teams will seek an opportunity to enjoy the sport this winter. At the meeting Monday night the number of teams to compete will be selected from those that have representatives present. The nights to be reserved and the number of rounds to be bowled will also be decided. It is therefore imperative that all those desiring to enter the league have a representative present Monday, October 29, at 8 o'clock.

N. Y. BOXING COMMISSION WON'T JOIN INTERNATIONAL

New York, Oct. 25 (AP).—The New York State Athletic Commission will not join the proposed new International Boxing Association or any other national governing body if William Muldoon has anything to say about it. Working agreements with separate states are all right but a definite alliance with a national body is out of the question, the veteran commissioner said yesterday. "We have no affiliation with any boxing body of national scope nor, as long as I can prevent it, will we undertake such an alliance," Muldoon said. "Our state law imposes on us the responsibility for administering the statute under which boxing is conducted in this state. It does not give authority to assume alliances with organizations or institutions whose object is to control or supervise boxing throughout the country. In addition to the legal bar to joining a national organization and his belief that voluntary aid to other states is better than if membership in an organization required it, Muldoon said that a nation-wide organization is too unwieldy to be effective and that one trouble maker in such an organization could upset the whole machine."

—“and I want telephones
there and there and THERE!”

IN the planning and building of a new residence, the owner's wife has a large share in making decisions. She says, “I must have closet space—and store rooms—and now-adays, “I must have enough telephones.”

She knows that there are ingenious methods of placing telephones at strategic places throughout the house to provide the maximum of comfort and convenience in telephone service. By using clever built-in niches, and new furniture designed to hold directories and instruments, she secures that touch of modernity which adds to the beauty of the home and the usefulness of its essential services.

Our engineers, through extensive studies of this subject have gathered many valuable suggestions for the guidance of architects, builders and home owners. They will be glad to assist in planning proper installations in new homes or those already completed. There is no charge for this service.

$7,000 Needed
In Church Drive

The workers in the drive to raise $7,000 for the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church reached a grand total last evening of about $18,000. The meeting was very enthusiastic, and the men expressed a determination to make every sacrifice of time necessary to call on the prospects. The city was thrown wide open to the workers, and they were told to call anywhere, but as far as possible to stick to the cards in hand. The advisory initial gifts committee will cooperate today and tomorrow in the effort to have the campaign close with the entire amount raised. The closing dinner will be held on Friday evening at 6:15, and the men will make every effort to have a real victory affair.

We know of nothing that has a finer appeal along home-mission lines than this for a civic standpoint, and this for the colored people of the city of Kingston. We would consider it a real detriment from a civic standpoint alone to have this fall.

The teams reported a total of $1,376 last evening, bringing the grand total up to $17,751. William B. Martin again leading the procession of divisions with a total of $557. The leading teams were: Team No. 7, Captain Cordts, was high with $162; Team No. 4, Captain Hall, second, with $146, and Team No. 13, Captain DeGarmo, and No. 8, Captain Lieske, were tied at $100 each.

The initial gift committee announced subscriptions of:

Ralph K. Forsyth.....$200

Hoover Confers
With Advisors

Others Include Otto M. Kahn, Banker, Who Cannot See Logic in Voting for Smith Who Opposes Views of Democratic Congressional Candidates.

Washington, Oct. 25 (AP)—Herbert Hoover received cheering words from some of his supporters today and found time to confer briefly with several of his close political advisors.

One of his early callers was Otto M. Kahn, New York banker, who had breakfast with the nominee and who afterwards said that anyone who voted for Mr. Hoover in the expectation of a reactionary administration greatly mistakes the man.

Besides seeing Mr. Kahn, Mr. Hoover conferred with Myron T. Herrick, ambassador to France, and Oscar N. Solbert, of Rochester, N. Y., president of the John Ericsson Republican League of America who recently made a campaign trip through 20 states.

In his statement Kahn said Hoover was “the wisely constructive liberal and humanitarian now that he was in 1920;” that he sought the kind of prosperity which is widely diffused and that “he does not choose the way, which, from the vote setting point of view, may seem the most effective, but the way which, in the actual outcome, will prove most beneficial to the farmer.”

“I do not consider that bigotry is an issue in this campaign,” Mr. Kahn continued, adding that it had been “repudiated indignantly by Mr. Hoover and discountenanced emphatically by the Republican campaign managers.”

Illogical to Vote for Smith.
“Personally,” Mr. Kahn said, “I am in accord with Governor Smith's basic views on prohibition (though not with some of his specific recommendations) but inasmuch as Governor Smith is advocating one thing and a large majority of the congressional nominees of his party are advocating the opposite, I cannot see the logic of a Republican departing from his usual political affiliations because of that question.”

Mr. Solbert, who formerly was military aide to President Coolidge, said that during his campaign trip he had found that Americans of Swedish descent were overwhelmingly for Hoover.

“For the maintenance and increase of present prosperity, employment, high wages, and high standards of living, they are convinced that Herbert Hoover and his policies should read a business government of the United States,” Solbert said.

“Americans of Swedish origin feel that Herbert Hoover is the best insurance for future good times, and consequently for their general welfare and happiness.”

Hubert Merritt of Briarcliff Manor was best man. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt departed on a motor trip through Vermont and other New England states. A Shady Surprise Party.
Shady, Oct. 25.—Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln MacDaniel of Shady cleared away the supper dishes and prepared to spend a quiet evening at home with the radio, when suddenly the quiet was shattered by the sound of many automobile horns, the barking of dogs and the hooting of what sounded like a tribe of Comanche Indians. The Indians turned out to be the guests of MacDaniel's Cold Spring House, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Barnett MacDaniel who were all out for a good time. Mr. and Mrs. MacDaniel were really surprised, as was intended, and cheerfully turned off the radio. It was a party from start to finish and was a revelation to some of those present from other parts who had never known what real fun could be had from such a gathering. Many games were played, Virginia reels and square dances galore and the songs of Barnett MacDaniel delivered special mention. A second surprise took place during the evening when everyone was called inside and it was announced that it was the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Martin MacDaniel, proprietors of Cold Spring House. In behalf of all the rest of the folks, LeRoy Van Tassel presented Mr. and Mrs. MacDaniel with a boudoir lamp as a token of the ray of light which Cold Spring House had been to many who had gone there tired in mind and body and who through that ray had gone away rested and with a bright outlook on life. Refreshments were served by the ladies and after the call for "one more couple" for the square dance the party broke up about midnight, everyone vowing it a most successful surprise and an evening long to live as a pleasant memory in the minds of all present. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln MacDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. Barnett MacDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan MacDaniel, Arthur MacDaniel, Ellsworth MacDaniel, Miss Louise MacDaniel, Miss Esther MacDaniel and Mr. and Mrs. Martin MacDaniel with their Cold Spring House family as follows: Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Vandenberg, daughter, Mildred, and son, Leslie, of Tarrytown, N. Y.; Mrs. E. M. Van Tassel of Tarrytown, N. Y.; Mrs. H. H. Hovos of New York City, Mrs. Steele and son, Bobbie, of New Brunswick, N. J.; Miss B. M. Kirby, of Oceanport, N. J.; Miss Beatrice Neppas, of Rutherford, N. J.; K. Hard of New York City and E. L. Van Tassel of Croton-on-Hudson, N. Y.

Parish's Church, Athens, by the Rev. Joseph M. O'Connor of Fondia. The Rev. John J. Walker, C. S. R., and the Rev. Martin Lacey, C. S. R., of St. Alphonsus, Elmhurst, N. Y., were seated in the chancel during the impressive ceremonies. The bride was given away by her father, the bridegroom being escorted by Michael A. Lenahan of Athens and Richard P. Lenahan, Jr., of New York City, brothers of the bride, and William McDonald and Joseph Craven of Olatting, brothers-in-law of the groom. The matrons of honor, Mrs. Michael A. Lenahan of Athens, and the bride were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, John V. Kennedy of New York City. Miss Julia Walsh of Troy presided at the organ and vocal selections were rendered by Miss Agnes O'Brien and Miss Agnes Dunne of Troy. The bride was charmingly gowned in an exquisite gown of antique ivory satin and duchesse and rose point lace. She wore a tulle veil with a cap of duchesse and rose point lace. Her shower bouquet consisted of orchids and lilies of the valley and added an artistic touch in the costume. The matron of honor looked beautiful in fuchsia transparent velvet, trimmed with point lace, with a velvet hat to match. She carried tallman roses. The ceremony was very largely attended by relatives and friends of the couple who are very widely known. St. Patrick's Church was prettily decorated for the occasion, the altar being a veritable flower garden of red and white roses, palms and ferns. Following the nuptial reception and wedding breakfast, which was held in the hall room of the New Salopha Hotel, Catskill. The hall room was attractive in an abundance of flowers. The bride's table was adorned with a lovely floral centerpiece and a handsome trimmed wedding cake, which was cut by the bride. A large number of guests were in attendance at the post-nuptial festivities. Music was furnished throughout the reception by Fontanella's orchestra. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Lowery left on a motor tour through the south. The bride's going-away costume was a green and white ensemble suit with the dress of silk and the coat of lama cloth trimmed with gray Persian lamb. Guests were present from New York, Brooklyn, Ossining, Buffalo, Kingston, Albany, Larchmont, Creek Locks, Catskill and Hudson. Miss Lenahan is well and favorably known in Kingston, where she resided at one time. Mr. Lenahan while a resident here was connected with the Lenahan Boatyard. He was also a member of the common council for a number of years. At present Mr. Lenahan is president of the Athens National Bank and the Lenahan Boatyard at Athens. Mr. Lowery is well known in large canal and Hudson river transportation circles, being the owner of a fleet of freight vessels plying between Buffalo and New York. Mr. and Mrs. Lowery will reside in New York City.

"Fires of Spring" By Mrs. Coursen

Graduate of Kingston High School. Writes Novel That is Attracting Wide Interest—Formerly Published in "The Fires of Spring," that is attracting wide attention, owing to its unusual treatment. The novel has just been placed on the shelves of the Kingston City Library. Mrs. Coursen is married and the mother of two small children.

Mrs. Dorothy Brown Coursen, graduate of the Kingston High School, has just had published a novel, "The Fires of Spring," that is attracting wide attention, owing to its unusual treatment. The novel has just been placed on the shelves of the Kingston City Library. Mrs. Coursen is married and the mother of two small children.

Mrs. Coursen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Brown, who for many years resided at 15 West Chestnut street. Several months ago the family removed from Kingston and are now residing near New York city, where Mr. Brown is engaged as a consulting engineer.

The author is widely known in Kingston and was a member of the Roundout Presbyterian Church. The Brown family when they located in Kingston a number of years ago became active in the work of the church, and when they removed from the city their loss was keenly felt. Mrs. Coursen after her graduation from the high school and before she left Kingston to continue her studies in college, was for a brief time a member of the staff of the Kingston Daily Leader.

This is said to be her second novel, but the first to be published. It bears the imprint of the publishing house of Henry Holt of New York city. Undoubtedly the book will be widely read in Kingston as Mrs. Coursen was widely and favorably known during the years she resided here.

St. James School Rally Day Supper

St. James M. E. Church school held its first annual rally day supper Wednesday night. At 6:30 the school, with the exception of the primary department, sat down to a most appetizing meal prepared and served by the W. T. W. class.

The younger members were brought into the gaily decorated dining room through a ghostly cavern where they were greeted by the body of Captain Kidd, with numerous ghosts and witches. During and after the supper group singing was led by C. E. Wonderly, accompanied by Sam Scudder. Miss Spink rendered two delightful solos.

Superintendent Willson introduced the great Dr. Doolittle, in the person of H. C. Longyear, who evidently had considerable trouble with his vocal cords. He spoke without words for several minutes, thus giving an enjoyable idea of what an after-dinner speaker should do.

Dr. Black then spoke on the aims of the church school. Susie's Kitchen Cabinet Band next presented a novel program which rivaled those of its predecessor, John Philip Sousa.

The 230 members present agreed that this first rally day supper was a real success and expressed a desire that the precedent thus set be followed in the future.

75 Per Cent of Man's Ills Have Origin in Stomach, Says Expert! Affects Kidneys, Blood and Nerves

Health Expert Fights Disease With Simple Roots, Herbs, Barks and Leaves

MANY PEOPLE TESTIFY

THE NU-ERB MAN

"A good digestion and a strong, healthy stomach are absolutely indispensable to health and comfort," says a noted health teacher, demonstrating the marvelous medicinal properties that exist in Nu-Erb. "The slightest derangement of the stomach interferes more or less with all the succeeding processes of digestion and seriously impairs nutrition. Stomach trouble in its various forms produces a never-ending trend of physical disorders; it frequently causes diseases of the liver, kidneys, blood and bowels; brings on severe headaches, nervous ailments and heart afflictions. It makes the patient irritable and melancholy, spoils the appetite and undermines the strongest constitution."

In diseases of the stomach some of the following symptoms are usually present: Bad breath, sick headache, giddiness, disturbed sleep, bitter taste in the mouth, loss of hope, courage, and energy. Fullness and gas in the stomach, constipation, diarrhoea or piles.

The proper medicine for such conditions is not harsh mineral drugs and chemicals. Not only science, but sound common sense points instead to those good old-fashioned remedies of the vegetable kingdom—herbs, barks, roots and leaves such as grandmother herself used to brew and use in the days when doctors were few and hard to reach and before new-fangled drugs and diseases became the fashion.

Right in this section there is going on a wonderful sale of an old-fashioned medicine—just pure, plain liquid extract, carefully and skillfully compounded from the roots, herbs, barks and leaves of the woods and fields. A highly efficient stomach medicine that contains also good things for the nerves, blood, kidneys and bowels.

Thousands lack sufficient vital force and don't know why. They think they need a tonic, a vacation or a change of scenery, but they don't. Ten to one the underlying source of all the trouble lies in the stomach or vital organs affected by it and a short test of Nu-Erb ought to prove it in almost any case.

Mrs. Frank Sheen was sick and all run down, finds herself "a new woman" in the best sense of the word. An invalid woman is always a sad sight—sadder even than that of an invalid man, because of her greater capacity for suffering. Stomach trouble, headache, fits of depression or work with half her brain, while the other half throbs as if it would go to pieces. There are no more striking examples of the great practical value of Nu-Erb, the wonderful herbal medicine, than are heard from the lips of women who have been made well.

Its ability to relieve those ills that seem to be peculiarly the misfortune of women is overwhelmingly proven by innumerable testimonials.

STOMACH TROUBLE RELIEVED.

"My liver must have been in pretty bad condition for my system was full of bile and my head would swim so at times that I felt I was going to topple over," said Mr. D. Gilmore, 88 Merritt street, St. Catharines.

"I had severe pains in my stomach and everything I ate laid there like so much lead. I was filled with gas and my bowels wouldn't move unless urged by strong laxatives. Nu-Erb was quick to overcome the constipation and rouse my lazy liver, working out the excess bile. My stomach began digesting my food and stopped the gas, forming and easing the cramps. I never have a dizzy spell now."

"My stomach gave a lot of trouble. I was bilious and had frequent dizzy spells," said Mrs. John Bell, 4062 Buffalo Ave., Niagara Falls, N. Y. "Since taking Nu-Erb my kidneys are in fine shape. I have no more dizzy spells. Stomach is in fine condition and I eat three meals a day without having any pain or distress. I sleep sound all night and get up feeling good. My liver has been thoroughly worked off and that has made me feel like a new woman."

McBride's Drug Store, 312 Wall street, the only place in Kingston where Nu-Erb may be purchased. The Nu-Erb man now located there is daily explaining to scores of local people how to take Nu-Erb for best results. Go to see him. His advice is free.
